

Ms. Hadia Awan

Principal at Punjab Law College Lahore

Professor of Law

Ph.D Scholar (National Defence University, Islamabad)

LL.M (London University, London)

M.A. (Pol. Sc.) (P.U), LL.B. (PU),

Hadia Awan is a law graduate, an ex. Judge and currently Principal Punjab Law College, Lahore. She is LL.M from London University, specialization in International Dispute Resolution; International Commercial Arbitration was the major component of Masters Program.

She has a good international exposure. She was selected by the British Council for the 'Law Teaching and Legal Research Methodology' held in Wales, Cardiff, UK in September 2004. She was again selected by US Consulate for the 'US State Leadership Program' in Jan, 2006. She represented Pakistan amongst delegates from 24 countries around the world. She is an accredited mediator, teacher training and the advocacy skills trainer by the UK and US, respectively, and used to conduct trainings at different cities of Pakistan. She worked with the international donor agencies on different projects e.g. with ADB in their 'Seed Grant Program' and research project of international organization 'Al Falah' the collection and compilation of Islamic judgments since the time of Prophet (SAW).

To keep pace with the new teaching and research methodologies and emerging trend in the field of law she is currently pursuing her Ph.D with National Defence University Islamabad.. Currently beside her regular teaching and administrative assignments at Punjab Law College, Lahore, she is a visiting lecturer at prestigious Federal Judicial Academy Islamabad, Lahore and MPDD Lahore. She is on panel of arbitrators at Lahore Stock Exchange for the last eight years.